

Athyna Wolf

BOARD MEMBER

Athyna Wolf was born and raised on a cattle ranch south of Calgary and has called the area home for most of her life. She attended law school at the University of Alberta Faculty of Law, graduating in 2014. While in undergrad and law school, Athyna volunteered for organizations promoting sexual health and agency.

Following law school, Athyna clerked at the Court of Appeal of Alberta in Calgary and articulated at the firm she works for today. She works as a commercial litigator with an emphasis on corporate commercial disputes, energy industry disputes, professional liability, and employment law. In addition to serving on the board for the Centre for Sexuality, Athyna is a trustee for the Canadian Society for Petroleum Geologists Foundation, has been a tutorial leader at the University of Calgary Faculty of Law, and volunteers with the legal community in Calgary.
